BIRTH.

At No. 7, Chancery Lane, the wife of M. E. F. F.

Fenwick, of London.

HONGKONG, FEBRUARY 15TH, 1894.

It will be seen, by reference to Reuter's Despatch published in another column, that the Secretary of State for India is determined to give a fair trial to the experiment of closing the Indian Mints. His Lordship is also resolved, to adhere to his policy of reducing the number of mints, and has recommended, with a term of banishment, to the Board of Punishments a general amnesty for all persons who have been condemned as guilty of corruption. As there is no doubt that the prisoner commands a good deal of influence it is safe to conclude it will be effectively used not only to save his head, but also to shorten his period of banishment. If it is not easy to escape through the literary examinations in China, it is difficult to wriggle out of a tight place such as that in which the peasant Chou has managed to place himself. Always provided that there is the wherewithal to lubricate the palms of a goodly number of arbitrary officials.The O. S. S. Co.'s steamer Myrmidon left Singapore yesterday morning for Hongkong.According to a Java paper the shippers of sugar at Sourabaya are all paying the export duty on sugar under protest.At the Magistracy yesterday about thirty hawkers were fined small sums for obstructing the public pathways with their barks.It is noticed in the Selangor Government Gazette that on and after the 13th February, 1894, the export duty on tin in that State will be twice as much as at present.The Free Press says that the Italian Orienta, on a voyage from New York to Java with petroleum, recently met with severe weather and had to throw overboard about 12,000 cases of petroleum.A number of Chinese who were keeping the New Year festivities not wisely but well, and annoying the public by kicking cracked eggs, were confined to the police station and were sent to the prison for a few days.The Free Press says that the Italian Orienta, on a voyage from New York to Java

The Committee of the St. Andrew's Hall held their final meeting yesterday, when a sum of the Hall account was submitted by the Honorable Treasury. The amount was £355.56 after paying all debts. From this it will be seen that the new system of running the Hall is a success. The Committee are to be congratulated.A good deal of difficulty has been experienced in getting the new system of running the Hall into operation.The Free Press says that the Italian
